

Rubina Real Estate is member of the 'OAV - German Asia-Pacific Business Association'

Berlin, July 2014 - Rubina Real Estate has become a member of the German Asia-Pacific Business Association. As Rubina is working on a high international basis and therefore gained many clients from all over the world, a sharp increase in the Asian countries has occurred, which is why the company decided to take the next step and join the German Asia-Pacific Business Association. Rubina Real Estate has developed a very strong network towards the Asia-Pacific region, which is why the company has opened an office in Beijing, China in the year of 2013 and is actively attending relevant real estate and business events in China every year. Being associated with the German Asia-Pacific Association is a symbol of bringing countries together and strengthening the global corporate network.

About the German Asia-Pacific Business Association

The German Asia-Pacific Business Association was founded in 1900 and is working with a strong network of German companies that are active in the Asia-Pacific Region.

As a non-profit organization its corporate members are financing the company. It includes a variety of industries from different industries, such as trading companies, from the banking sector and other small to medium-sized enterprises from Germany. The Chairman of the OAV organisation is Hans-Georg Frey.
