

Rubina Real Estate becomes a certified member of the recognized Real Estate Association “Immobilienverband Deutschland (IVD)”

As a professional real estate expert Rubina Real Estate Berlin relies on the membership of the Real Estate Association “Immobilienverband Deutschland (IVD).

The IVD stands for professional services and is the recognized professional organization for all companies, consultants and brokers operating in the real estate industry.

The international real estate business gains importance constantly since years. A high investment volume and many German real estate buyers abroad show that international real estate business is not a niche product anymore.

The Immobilienverband Deutschland takes an active part in this ever expanding market and is a competent and reliable partner. With a membership every partner gains the best chance to stand out clearly from the competition. Every IVD member receives a certificate of membership, which confirms the partner as a professional and qualified service provider.

About Immobilienverband Deutschland (IVD)

As an association of real estate consultants, brokers, managers and experts of the IVD participate in the responsibility of the sustainable functioning of the German as well as of the international property market. Here, the real estate association IVD fights for effective promotion and safeguarding of liberal and economically successful professional practice of its numerous members. Through continuous development as a recognized voice in the real estate market, the positive perception is to be increased. Finally the IVD wants to establish itself and its members as an active consumer advocate in the real estate market. For this purpose, the IVD has taken the initiative for the establishment of an arbitration body with a neutral "ombudsman property" service and thus follows the European trend of extrajudicial settlement of property disputes through several mediators.
